

We Are Weak But God Is Strong

I have fought God for many years.
Crying out in prayer with a trail of tears.
I am weak yet God is Strong.
My fight was futile, though I fought long.
In my own mind I was a fool.
Now I stand back and let God rule.
I listened to the Devil and all his lies.
I am a fool but God is wise.
I have shaken my fist at the God Most High.
It hurt so bad I wanted to die.
Now I know God is LORD.
One day we will all receive heaven's just reward.
Now I know and I believe.
God is right and I receive.
Though evil may reign through the night.
Weeping endures for a moment but then there is light.
God comes soon, God comes fast.
God is truth the first and the last.
God is love, God will save you.
Love your God He is coming soon.

I surrender to Christ though I had proclaimed Christianity 16 years ago back in late June 1998. I admit I was just playing the Christian game and though I had been tested and tried over and over again I surrender to God this day unconditionally. amen and amen...
